

FATAL WRECK ON ERIE

Eight Killed in Collision Between Passenger and Freight Trains.

BURNED BEYOND RECOGNITION.

Only One of Dead Identified—Ten People Injured, Three Seriously—Engineer Failed to See Flagman and Operator Displayed White Signal.

Jamestown, N. Y., April 21.—Eight persons are dead and 10 injured, three of them seriously, as the result of a collision between a passenger and freight train on the Erie railroad near Red House, N. Y.

Of the dead only one, Robert N. Hotchkiss, of Meadville, a brakeman, has been identified. Seven bodies apparently those of three men, three women and a child, were burned beyond recognition in the fierce fire which followed the wreck. The women are said to have boarded the train at Youngstown and to have come from Pittsburg.

R. G. McCready, a mail weigher, of Meadville, Pa., and Frank Barthe, of Jamestown, a traveling salesman, are missing and it is likely two of the unidentified bodies are those of the two men.

Mrs. Foote, E. C. Gabler and Fireman Bell are in the hospital at Salamanca. The others injured are able to proceed to their destination.

Wreck Took Fire.

The wrecked passenger train was known as No. 4, running from Chicago to New York. It was derailed by striking a freight train which was taking a siding at Red House. The wreck, at once took fire and the combination car, two day coaches and two sleepers, together with several freight cars, were consumed. There is some dispute as to the cause of the wreck. The passenger train was running east and the freight, which was westbound, had orders to go into the siding at Red House and wait for the passenger train to go by. The siding is about a mile and a half long and there is a tower of the block system near the west end.

The freight was drawn by two engines. Some trouble was experienced in entering the siding and the foremost engine of the freight was sent along the siding with a flagman to hold the express. It is alleged that the operator in the tower, Lawrence Vale, a boy 17 years old saw the light engine of the freight which was bringing up the flag and supposed the freight was on the siding behind it. Vale then displayed a white signal toward the passenger train, indicating to the engineer that he had a clear track.

Failed to See Flagman.

The engineer on the passenger train failed to see the flagman sent out on the rear platform of the freight train and saw only the clearance signal from the tower. The train ran toward the east end of the siding at high speed and collided with the second engine of the freight train just as it was about to clear the main line. The passenger engine and some of the coaches crashed into a small wooden structure used as a feed store and school house. The first half dozen cars of the freight were wrecked. They were box cars loaded with coal. The coal spilled in amongst the wreckage, creating an immense bonfire. All but three of the cars of the express followed the engine and the whole mass of wreckage was soon in flames. The tracks were strewn for rods with burning wood and coal and heaps of twisted iron work.

No. 4 is one of the fast trains on the Erie. The two private cars attached to it were occupied by W. J. Murphy, his wife and two officials of the Queen and Crescent railroad and J. L. Frazer, general superintendent of the Clover Leaf. All escaped uninjured.

King Reviews Blue Jackets.
Valetta, Island of Malta, April 21.—King Edward reviewed 8,000 blue jackets and marines and later, with elaborate ceremony, he laid the foundation stone of the breakwater which is to protect the entrance of the grand harbor. Many distinguished persons were present. In the evening there was a water carnival in the harbor, the features of which were floating models of 13 types of vessels of various periods, from Noah's ark to the battleship Edward VII.

Volunteer to Help Free Macedonia.
Rome, April 21.—Ricciotti Garibaldi, leader of the Italian volunteers in Greece during the war with Turkey, has received letters from almost every country in the world from men who volunteer to join his expedition to free Macedonia from Turkey. These offers include the formation of a battalion of yeomanry and cavalry in South Africa. Many offers to volunteer have been received from the United States.

Errors Alleged by Counsel.
St. Paul, Minn., April 21.—Thirty-four points of error are alleged by the counsel for the Northern Securities company and other defendants in their appeal from the decision of the circuit court. Exceptions are noted to every paragraph in the decree and the court is claimed to be in error in rendering any decree save one for a dismissal of the petition and proceedings.

The peach and apple blossoms are in the full glory of the season. Fruit growers say that an examination of the blossoms does not hold out the prospect that the fruit crop was ruined by early frosts. The damage to that of the blossoms are not universal in many instances, and it is at least hoped that there will be still a chance for a good fruit crop.

PRISONERS PLANNED TO ESCAPE
From Penitentiary—Guards Appear in Time and They Are Now in Solitary Confinement.

Columbus, O., April 21.—A desperate but unsuccessful attempt was made by John McGowan, a life prisoner, and Jesse Grant, a 10-year man, both of Cleveland, to escape from the penitentiary. It was at first thought a general outbreak among the prisoners had been planned and a riot alarm was sent to police headquarters. A squad of patrolmen was hurried to the prison, but their services were not needed.

McGowan and Grant both had revolvers, which had been smuggled into the prison. Walking into a room in the stamp shop, where they had secreted a ladder, they ordered the half dozen trustees employed there to lie down. Charles Farnhouse, the only one who did not obey, was knocked senseless with a hammer. The two men compelled one of the trustees to carry the ladder to the wall nearby. As they were about to scale the wall the guards appeared and many shots were exchanged, but none took effect. McGowan and Grant were finally taken into custody and placed in solitary confinement.

STONE'S STRONG PLEA

For Vindication of His Course During Baking Powder Legislation.

CLAIMS HE WAS PERSECUTED.

Missouri Democratic Press Association Listen to Some Warm Speeches
William J. Bryan Denounces the Daily Papers as Hostile to the Party

KANSAS CITY, April 21.—United States Senator William J. Stone, addressing the annual convention of the Missouri Democratic Press Association, made an elaborate explanation of his connection with baking powder legislation and enforcement of the state pure food laws and bitterly denounced the daily papers of the state which he declared had humiliated him out of his senses.

William J. Bryan had been announced as the principal speaker. He was received with enthusiastic and spontaneous applause by the country editors. He declared that through out his country he found deep and growing dissatisfaction among the Republican voters. He then spoke of the national administration and exhorted his hearers not to mind the Democratic party so much as the Republican party. He would be easy for Republicans to get into but to let it different so that it time of stress the people would turn to the Democrats for deliverance. Praising the state of Missouri for its protection of the machine boys, he said:

The federal government is to be afraid of the state of Missouri and the people of Missouri are to be afraid of the federal government.

Hostility to Daily Papers
Mr. Bryan said that the hostility of the daily papers to the Democratic party and that sort of thing is the worst thing that has happened since the war. He said that the daily papers of the state were the worst of the kind in the country. He said that the daily papers of the state were the worst of the kind in the country.

He said that the daily papers of the state were the worst of the kind in the country. He said that the daily papers of the state were the worst of the kind in the country. He said that the daily papers of the state were the worst of the kind in the country.

Senator Stone denied various reports that he had been in conference with Colonel William H. Phelps and Lieutenant Governor Lee a week before the legislative investigation had begun. He had been the victim of malicious attacks upon his character while he was governor and after he had retired to practice law now he suffered under low insinuations, filthy and false attacks.

Stone Waxed Wroth
"I submit to the judgment of fair American citizens that it is an outrage," he said, "whether accused or not accused has dared to lay a charge against my honor."

Senator Stone declared that he had no part in the passage of the anti-alum law of 1899 and did not know for nearly a year that it had been enacted. As a private attorney he had assisted in the enforcement of the state pure food laws and in 1901 when it was proposed to repeal the anti-alum law he wrote an argument against repeal but he did not visit Jefferson City.

I swear to you I never spoke nor wrote to any member of either house of the legislature concerning this matter but what I have told you he declared.

He said he hoped every guilty man would be uncovered. In closing his address Senator Stone said: "I hope I will wither my hand with my pen and burn my heart in the flames of hell before I will intentionally place any position to which the people of Missouri assign me."

Flour Mills Resume
Minneapolis, April 21.—The shutdown of the Minneapolis flour mills against the Minnesota anti-alum law is now over. The mills are now running and the flour is being shipped to the market.

Senators Say They Are Innocent
Jefferson City, Mo., April 21.—Senators B. L. Matthews and Charles A. Smith, indicted by the grand jury for accepting bribes in connection with the baking powder legislation, gave bonds in $3,000 each for appearance before the United States circuit court in the Jefferson City term. They each say they are innocent of the charges.

LEE WILL RETURN TO ST. LOUIS

On Condition the Grand Jury Asks No Embarrassing Questions About Legislative Scandals

St. Louis, April 21.—Lieutenant Governor John A. Lee is now negotiating with Circuit Attorney Falk for his return to St. Louis in the condition of freedom from embarrassing questions from the St. Louis grand jury about legislative scandals.

A friend of Mr. Lee's called on the circuit attorney and made an unsuccessful attempt to arrange for his immediate return on the terms which he desires to make.

Attorney General Crow was present during the session of the grand jury and advised Circuit Attorney Falk with the investigation of the legislative scandals. The circuit attorney grand jury has taken a recess until April 27 and his leave of absence is extended for a month. It is hinted that it is not probable that Lee will be indicted for a bribe or bribe before the inquiry is concluded by the grand jury.

Attorney General Crow said that he had a copy of the whole record of Daniel J. Kelly's New York legislation paper for Kelly's return to St. Louis.

A Knave of Conscience

By FRANCIS LYNDE.

(Copyright, 1903, by Francis Lynde.)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Griswold, a young man of New Orleans with rank social position, has written a book on the subject and after many weeks of fruitless search for a publisher, has about given up. Downcast and hungry, he meets an old friend, Mr. Raymond, who offers him a loan. Griswold refuses it, although he frankly says he will turn to stealing if nothing turns up soon.

CHAPTER II.—Mr. Raymond, who is a detective and an old friend of Griswold's, tells him the story of the robbery of the bank.

CHAPTER III.—Two days later Griswold boldly forces the president of the Bayou state bank to give him $10,000 upon pair of dice.

CHAPTER IV.—He safely leaves the bank, disguises himself as a sailor and eludes capture.

CHAPTER V.—He decides to go to some small town to work among the poor and pursue his sociological studies. He goes to the local church and places with a liberator on a boat about to leave on a trip to the river. Just as they are about to start, Mr. Raymond, disguised as a sailor, boards the boat. Griswold recognizes him as a young friend who was in the bank when he committed the robbery. He boldly and defiantly attacks the detective and presses him and he decides to go to his home town of New Orleans.

CHAPTER VI.—Griswold reads of the bank robbery and recognizes the well-known robber. He decides to write to the bank president to tell him of his discovery.

CHAPTER VII.—Griswold fears that he has been recognized and decides to give the bank president a letter.

CHAPTER VIII.—Charlotte cannot bring herself to send the letter. Her father, however, as she has become interested in Griswold.

CHAPTER IX.—Her father, who is greatly troubled by her and she is about to mail the letter when her father stops her.

CHAPTER X.—A young man, who is a friend of Griswold's, tells him the story of the robbery of the bank.

CHAPTER XI.—Griswold decides to go to New Orleans to see his father and to see if he can get the money back.

About the Baby

The best thing a mother can do for her nursing baby is to keep her own strength up to the highest mark by using Vin-Morrhol, the powerful reconstructive tonic and blood nourisher.

It will give her renewed life and vigor. It will make her cheerful; and help her to provide wholesome nourishment for the baby.

Vin-Morrhol is the most remarkable preparation yet devised by modern medical science. It combines the best that was known before with an entirely new discovery. It contains all the valuable elements of cod liver oil freed from the nauseating part and blended with peptonates of iron and manganese in coca wine by a process which brings out their splendid tonic and alterative properties to a degree never before accomplished.

Bear the name carefully in mind.

WITH THE DETECTIVE UPPERMOST.

the—this was, as you know it, he recovered now?

The detective gave an ex parte opinion. "Most likely not. It's easy come, easy go, with that lot."

"Precisely. When I'll make you a proposal. Leave the recovery of the money out of the question and I'll go with you peacefully and plead guilty."

Griswold laughed outright. "You're a cool one, he said. What do you take me for?"

"For a wise man or a fool, as the case shall decide. Do you accept?"

"Not much I don't."

"Then do it," yelled the man at bay, launching himself like a stone from a catapult on the detective.
